Judges

This matter was remanded to the trial court so that it could analyze the facts of this particular case and make a record, as required by MCL 769.1(13), as to why defendant should be subject to the SORA catchall provision. We retained jurisdiction. A hearing was held in the trial court on April 15, 2010, and this matter has now been resubmitted to this Court following remand.

We have reviewed the April 15, 2010, transcript and are satisfied that the trial court has fulfilled the requirements of MCL 769.1(13). Therefore, defendant is subject to the SORA catchall provision, and his convictions and sentences are AFFIRMED.
