The Court orders that the motion to file attachments in support of defendant-appellant's motion to remand is GRANTED.

The Court orders that the motion to remand pursuant to MCR 7.211(C)(1) is DENIED. Defendant-appellant's claims of ineffective assistance of counsel mostly involve strategic decisions and his offer of proof on those arguments fails to address the presumption that his counsel's actions were based on sound strategic decisions. Defendant-appellant has also not provided an offer of proof related to his claim that the jury should not have been allowed to hear certain evidence or properly shown that the trial court should initially address that issue. While defendant-appellant has offered an affidavit from an individual he believes was going to testify as his firearms expert to show that his trial attorney never consulted with that individual before trial, defendant-appellant has not properly shown that that individual was the expert that his attorney conferred with when preparing his case.
