The Court orders that, in light of the September 24, 2013 order entered on remand pursuant to stipulation of the parties finding that no jury demand was properly filed by either party, the right to a jury trial in this case was waived. MCR 2.508(D)(1). Thus, consistent with the holdings in our July 30, 2013 opinion that defendant-appellant is not entitled to relief based on any other issue raised in this appeal, we now AFFIRM the March 28, 2012 judgment in favor of plaintiff-appellee.
