The Court orders that the motion to affirm pursuant to MCR 7.211(C)(3) is GRANTED for the reason that the question to be reviewed is so unsubstantial as to need no argument or formal submission. After concluding that plaintiff had failed to establish a genuine issue of material fact that he had incurred reasonable and necessary expenses requiring defendant to pay no-fault benefits, the circuit court granted summary disposition in favor of defendant and dismissed plaintiff's action. However, the circuit court permitted plaintiff additional time to secure an attorney who was permitted by the circuit court to reargue, as on reconsideration, against dismissal of plaintiff's case. Plaintiff failed to obtain an attorney, and on appeal, presents no evidence to show that the circuit court erred in any respect.
