The Court orders that the motion to remand pursuant to MCR 7.211(C)(1) is DENIED.

Defendant-appellant has failed to properly demonstrate that further factual development of the record or an initial decision of the trial court is necessary for appellate review of his issues. However, defendant-appellant has now preserved for appellate review the objections to the Presentence Investigation Report made in his motion to remand, MCR 6.429(C), provided he did not waive those objections at the time of sentencing.
