The Court orders that the motion to remand pursuant to MCR 7.211(C)(1) is DENIED. While defendant-appellant requests a remand to be allowed to move for a new trial in the trial court based on the great weight of the evidence, he appears to primarily be challenging the sufficiency of the evidence to support his convictions, which is not required to be preserved by moving for a new trial. People v Cain, 238 Mich App 95, 116-117; 605 NW2d 28 (1999).
