Pursuant to MCR 7.216(A)(3), and upon the Court's own motion, the Court directs defendant to supplement his delayed application for leave to appeal to address whether the parties' original plea agreement, in which they agreed to a minimum sentence of between 41 and 75 months, remains applicable; and if not, explain why not. Defendant shall submit the supplement within 14 days after the date of this order. The People shall file a response within 14 days after being served with defendant's supplement and shall address those same matters.
