The Court orders that the motion to remand pursuant to MCR 7.211(C)(1) is DENIED. Despite including an offer of proof with his motion, defendant-appellant has failed to overcome the presumption that his counsel's actions regarding which witnesses to call and how to conduct cross-examination involved sound strategic decisions. Defendant-appellant has also failed to prove that he was completely deprived of the assistance of counsel at a critical stage of the proceedings, United States v Cronin, 466 US 648, 659 n 25; 104 S Ct 2039; 80 L Ed 2d 657 (1984), or offer proof that his counsel's performance was affected by the number of meetings that he had with defendant-appellant before trial.
