

STATE OF MICHIGAN
COURT OF APPEALS

PEOPLE OF GROSSE ILE TOWNSHIP,

Plaintiff-Appellant,

v

MICHAEL ALAN DEMBINSKI,

Defendant-Appellee.

UNPUBLISHED

February 7, 2006

No. 256429

Wayne Circuit Court

LC No. 03-500083

Before: Meter, P.J., Whitbeck, C.J., and Schuette, J.

SCHUETTE, J. (concurring).

I agree with the majority opinion in this case but wish to clarify that the delay between the traffic violation and the actual stop was reasonable. When defendant failed to use his turn signal, the officer had probable cause to believe a traffic violation occurred, and thus conduct a stop. The delay in effectuating the stop was a result of defendant pulling into a driveway in an attempt to evade the police. Regardless of the timing, the combination of the traffic violation and defendant's furtive movements established probable cause for the officer's stop of defendant's vehicle.

/s/ Bill Schuette